

NANO SUPERMARKET WORKSHOP

In the NANO Supermarket workshop we explore the potential future of nanotechnology together in a creative way.

Each team designs their own thought-provoking nanotech product and joins an in-depth group discussion on its impact.

WHAT DO WE OFFER?

- ❶ 3-4 HOUR WORKSHOP FOR 20-30 PEOPLE
 - ❷ 1-2 TRAINED WORKSHOP FACILITATORS
 - ❸ OPTIONAL LECTURE

WHAT'S THE PURPOSE?

We aim to stimulate debate on how emerging technologies impact our everyday lives and in a broader perspective, society.

FOR WHOM?

Educational institutes and companies interested in technological innovation.

So you are thinking about hosting the NANO Supermarket workshop?
That's great! We would like to ensure you with some practical information.

PREPARATION

All materials are provided by the facilitators of Next Nature Network.
To give the workshop only a room with a beamer and sound is required.

PROGRAM

The workshop takes about half a day and consists of three parts:

INTRODUCTION - 1 HOUR

Interactive and visual presentation about how Next Nature Network explores the future of nanotechnology through Design Fiction in the NANO Supermarket.

COACHING - 2 HOURS

Teams are made to start generating and selecting ideas in a collective brainstorm. Information about developments in nanotechnology is provided and all teams are supported throughout the research and design process.

DISCUSSION - 1 HOUR

During the feedback session every team presents their results, which are then discussed in the group. The facilitators make sure that the product is critically assessed from a technological, societal and design perspective.
